Introduction.

In preparing this Catalogue, particular care has been taken to accurately describe each piece and to guard against exaggeration, and we feel confident that the pieces will give perfect satisfaction to purchasers.

The Greek and Roman specimens are mostly in fine condition, and many are very rare.

The owner of this collection paid particular attention to collecting United States pieces of the New Orleans Mint, a variety which, no doubt, will demand more attention in the future.

The Cents and Half Cents will be found to be prolific in varieties and most of them very desirable for any cabinet. Among them is the 1809 Cent, which is a beautiful piece, purchased by the owner, in the Packer sale, for twenty-five dollars.

The Foreign Medals are mostly beautiful proofs, and are very interesting and desirable, many of them being rare.

All bids will be faithfully attended to, and we assure those who send us their bids that we will endeavor to purchase pieces for them as low as possible, without regard to the extent of their bids.

Very respectfully,

MASON & Co.
